To Whom It May Concern:

With respect I write this letter of recommendation for Stephanie Evans. In my role as an administrator, I view Ms. Evans as possessing several major skills that are necessary for success with children. Ms. Evans understands the social, emotional, and intellectual development of children. She sets clear boundaries and expectations with the children that she works with and holds them accountable, while treating them with respect.

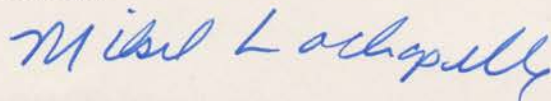

Ms. Evans's primary responsibility is teaching ELL students. Ms. Evans works extensively with students on developing and improving their emerging reading and writing skills. This has required Ms. Evans to coordinate with classroom teachers and special education case managers to carry out student accommodations and provide support in reading and writing.

In her role as a child advocate, Ms. Evans learned about her students' particular learning styles and affective needs. She orchestrated her daily routine so that all students were able to experience success academically and socially with their peers. I respect her as a professional and admire her passion and motivation to be a good educator.

Stephanie is an excellent candidate for a teaching position. She is determined to advance in the educational arena, and she will make a difference.

Please do not hesitate to contact me at 603-479-6007.

Sincerely,

Mikel LaChapelle M.Ed
